

Comedian Kendra Corrie's BIO:

Kendra began to put her Classical Voice, Theatre and Improvisation training to use on the Comedy stage in the abysmally moist city of Orlando, FL. After much soul-searching; an unforgettable performance in Carnegie Hall; a rebellious education in London, England; and shedding over 200 pounds, Kendra has found an indelible comedic voice, which combines poignant honesty and rapid-fire observations with hefty doses of self-analytical wit and silliness. Since winning the Funniest Comic Competition at the Orlando Improv, she's played clubs and colleges across the U.S., made an appearance with nationally touring comedy ensemble Five Funny Females, and was a favorite at The Cape Fear Comedy Festival (2010), The Laughing Skull Comedy Festival (2011), and Women in Comedy Festival (2012) in Boston. She is also a proud co-founder of the Not Your Average Broads of Comedy Tour. Henry Winkler (The Fonz!) said "Ascerbic wit is always attractive in a woman; and you (Kendra) are absolutely beautiful!"
